

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

The FCC's founding charge: "To serve the public interest before private interests".

Michael Powell, this is not subject to interpretation! Yet you have chosen to sell out those public interests for those of big business. I am particularly concerned with your compliance with big media in their efforts to monetize the net and regulate and control broadband access, severely inhibiting non-commercial use of and public access to the high-speed Internet. You serve the public first Mr. Powell, not the Media/Telecomm conglomerates.
